16 Days of Activism against Gender-Based Violence

Every person deserves to live safe, equal, and respected. Yet, statistics show that more than 1 in 3 women have experienced violence from men.The 16 Days of Activism is a global movement aimed at preventing and eliminating violence against women and girls. Here in Victoria, local communities, councils, and workplaces are uniting with a grassroots spirit to drive real change and stop family violence before it starts.How you can take part:
Attend an event, workshop, walk and discussions across Victoria. Wear orange, the official color of the global campaign. Spread the word, share resources and start safe conversations about respect and equality. Let's work together to create a future free from violence. If you or someone you know is impacted by family violence, free and confidential support is available 24/7.
Call Safe Steps on 1800 015 188, or dial 000 in an emergency.
